(Special to The Evening World.)
BEAVER, Pa., Jan. 24.—A scandal has developed in the Jefferson College here, a seminary for girls, over midnight visits which town boys are alleged to have paid to the fair collegians' rooms in the dormitory. As a result, the sons of half a dozen prominent Beaver families are in serious trouble, and one of them will be arraigned in court to-day on charges preferred by the president of the college, Arthur Staples.

The village swains, it is alleged, have been stealing into the dormitory, loaded down with materials for midnight feasts, with which to gain the good graces of the girls. In the parcels which they concealed under their coats were hidden bottles, which were not empty.

Eighteen in Flight.
Wednesday night, according to Prof. Gadwallader of the vocal department, he surprised three boys in the dormitory, leaving a girl's room. They dashed to a window and fled with fifteen other lads, whom Prof. Gadwallader was unable to catch at the ladder.

Monday night President Staples planned a coup. He hid on the lower floor of the dormitory, and about midnight heard the muffled tramp of many masculine feet on the floor above.

He changed his place so that he could see any one coming down stairs and waited.

Suddenly Prof. Gadwallader came into the room, and the boys, who believed he could stop Gadwallader, he believed, ran heavily up the stairs. The boys above took flight and dashed downstairs past the professor.

Found Cavey of Intruders.
President Staples grappled with one at the foot of the stairs, but the lad escaped. Then the professor turned to another and went into the chamber. There a dozen forms leaped up from behind curtains like a covey of partridges, and tried to get past the two men, all hands handkerchiefs tied about their faces, preventing recognition. President Staples captured one of the lads and Prof. Gadwallader got the hat of another, with his name in it. The president and the professor then started for the Beaver jail with their prisoners, but were suddenly pounced on by the boy's companions, who were in hiding behind trees, and who tore the prisoner loose.

In the end, however, President Staples recognized several young men from whom faces she handkerchiefs had been torn. One of them was arrested and other arrests are expected to follow.

In the mean time, it is said, the young women of the college are to be forced to tell all they know about these nocturnal visits to their rooms.

BOWLER KOSTER IN HARD TRAINING FOR VOORHEIS

Match Contest Attracts Great Attention and Very Close Scores Are Expected.

When John Koster tosses the foul line at the Grand Central Alleys, Brooklyn, Feb. 5, for the match contest of best six out of eleven games with John Voorheis, the well-known anchor of the famous old Pétanques expects to have no excuse to offer for defeat should Voorheis win.

Koster is taking hard and steady practice at the Nonpareil Club, and it is said his record averages of 23 for thirteen games and 26 for eight games at the Grand Central are likely to be broken, judging from the way he has been hitting the alleys at the Nonpareil.

Voorheis has publicly stated that he is not in good physical condition, due to the long hours in his billiard and poolroom at the Morningstar, One Hundred and Fifteenth street, and that he has had no time for practice. His three games in the Eastern League series at the University Monday, however, when he recovered, indicate that he is nearly on edge for a match contest.

There is no doubt that Voorheis will be the favorite in the betting of that a great amount of money will be wagered on the contests. Koster is not without friends, and the "wise money" will be divided in this contest, one reason being Koster's supreme honesty and desire to win.

There has not been a big advance sale of tickets, the dollars stand idle being added up to the reservation of seats.

The proposed preliminary contest between Jimmy Smith and Billy Rothhaar, also partner of Koster, will probably not be arranged. Smith declines to
